

- 1 BJ: Uh-huh.
- 2 WS: So the people on the other side of the street were predominantly, uh I would say that they were all Catholic . . .
- 3 BJ: Mm-hmm.
- 4 WS: The people on our side were of different groups.
- 5 BJ: Mm-hmm
- 6 WS: And uh . . . probably of a somewhat higher economic background.
- 7 BJ: Yeah, 'cause the houses were newer.
- 8 WS: The houses were newer, and well they were brand-new.
- 9 BJ: Mm-hmm.
((1.5-second pause))
- 10 WS: Uh . . . the first time my daughter . . . Uh, I guess we were one of the first ones to move in. The first time my daughter went across the street to play with a bunch of kids, uh, she took her jump rope. She was about four years old and
- 11 BJ: Mm-hmm.
- 12 WS: I guess everything was going all right until the mother came out and she said, "Get that Christ-killer outta here".
- 13 BJ: Really?
