

Who Belongs to the Rivers Club?

Doris Carson Williams,
Small Business Advocate

Bringing people together is Doris Carson Williams' passion. A gifted advocate for small business and civic development, she has been a presidential appointee to the SBA, a frequently-honored community volunteer and has served on numerous city educational board and arts organizations. She is also the current President and CEO of the African American Chamber of Commerce of Western Pennsylvania. Since 1987, she has actively supported the growth of the thriving inner-city cultural center known as the Manchester Bidwell Corporation — the center's newest project is a greenhouse where unemployed steelworkers learn how to grow tomatoes and orchids. Uniting in her advocacy, Doris Carson Williams, like other members of the Rivers Club, nurtures entrepreneurial growth in Pittsburgh.
